Abstract

The abstract, written in Thai, should present the research objectives, methodology, and findings in a concise manner, providing an overall summary of the paper. It should include all key terms and be brief and precise.

Keywords

Keyword 1, Keyword 2, Keyword 3

Introduction

The introduction should be well-structured, discussing the background related to the research topic or the origin of the research. It should highlight the problem, the necessity, and the importance of the study, supported by relevant theories, academic principles, and references. Clearly explain the research objectives, define the scope, and discuss the theories, concepts, and related research. Also, mention the potential benefits of the research.

Research Objectives

1. Objective 1
2. Objective 2

Scope of the Research

1. Population Scope
2. Variable Scope
3. Time Scope

Literature Review (if any)

A literature review summarizes relevant research on a topic, highlighting key findings and identifying gaps in the existing knowledge. It helps position your study within the broader academic context.

Research Methodology

1. Research Methodology
2. Research Steps
3. Data Collection
4. Data Analysis

Research Results

Present the analysis results, including a detailed description of the data analysis process, followed by the results and their interpretation. For results presented in tables or figures, provide accompanying explanations, rather than just displaying the tables or figures without context.

Discussion

Select key findings from the research results and provide a reasoned academic discussion, supporting the research outcomes with relevant data.

Recommendations (if any)

1. Recommendations for the application of research results
2. Recommendations for future research

Acknowledgement (if any)

The acknowledgment section expresses gratitude to individuals, organizations, or institutions that provided support or assistance.
